

preschool PROMISE

You're invited - Apply to attend

April 24 and 25, 2020 | 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.
Kroc Center, 1000 N Keowee St, Dayton, OH 45404

Zaretta Hammond Best-selling Author, Culturally Responsive Teaching & The Brain

This 2-day workshop will help you with the long-term work of practicing culturally responsive teaching. You'll learn how to create conditions that allow ALL students to thrive and embrace rigor — especially students who are under-performing.

Seats are limited, so participants must apply to attend. Successful applicants will be notified by March 20.

Apply at PreschoolPromise.org

Who Should Apply?

Administrators, Program Directors, Teachers, Coaches — all who are committed to changing practices to ensure culturally responsive teaching is embedded in their preschool or organization

Requirements:

- Participants must read Culturally Responsive Teaching & The Brain, which will be provided, in advance of the training (Please indicate in the application if you need a copy of the CRT book)
- Attendees must attend both days, all day

Preference will be given to applicants who:

- Have read Culturally Responsive Teaching or have joined a book study of it
- Apply as a team, with at least 1 administrator and 2 staff members
- Participated in the Equity Fellows initiative or culturally responsive teaching book studies
- Commit to a 2020-21 school year implementation schedule for lessons learned

You are invited to join us March 12 or March 24 for a facilitated book discussion prior to the training.

! Please note this is NOT a train-the-trainer workshop. Rather, it will help professionals reflect on their own practices and change their interactions to better support students.

Are you a K-12 or Higher Ed Educator?

Check out the 2-day Zaretta Hammond Culturally Responsive Teaching training on April 28-29, hosted by Learn to Earn Dayton.
