3. Multifaceted Power

The Mariemont brand is built on the timelessness and connection of our community—traditions between multiple generations, as well as upperclassmen and lowerclassmen interacting with one another.

At the center of the warrior brand are the ideas of courage, self-sufficiency and perseverance. What it means to be a warrior passes down year after year after year, reinforcing those elements. The idea is to be one's personal best—liberation and freedom that comes from performing together at a higher level through sports, arts and academically.
