

Technical Reference: Browser Settings for Macintosh Environment Campus 2007

This document reflects the best browser settings for use with a Macintosh system. Browsers should be kept up to date by updates as provided by the operating system.

For additional computer settings, see the quick reference document entitled Quick Reference: Recommended Desktop Settings.

Camino Environment

The Camino browser is the recommended option for Macintosh-based districts. After downloading (free download available at www.caminobrowser.org), the only option that needs to be changed is the preferences being marked to allow pop-up windows.

Firefox Environment

Infinite Campus technology supports the Firefox browser. Other than turning off the save password feature, there are no settings that need to be made in order for Campus to work properly using this browser.

Internet Explorer and Safari Environment

The Internet Explorer and Safari browsers are not supported by Infinite Campus at this time. Users should be accessing the product by using Firefox or Camino.
