

Music Interview

An interview is a conversation between two people about a certain topic. Pick someone you know, and interview them about music. It could be someone who lives with you, can call on the phone, or can talk to at a safe distance. After you pick your person to interview, fill out the top part of the worksheet. Then ask them the questions listed below. Write down their answers on this worksheet or on a separate piece of paper.

What are YOUR answers to these questions? Do different people in your household have different answers? There's only one way to find out – interview more people! I hope you learn something new about your loved ones and friends. Have fun!
