Winter

Winter is the best season of the year. During the winter months, temperatures are usually colder and there are fewer hours of daylight. The winter months in North America are December, January, February, and March.

Animals have special ways of preparing themselves for winter. Some animals, like birds and butterflies travel long distances, or migrate, to warmer temperatures during the winter months. Other animals go to sleep, or hibernate, during the winter. Bears, gophers, snakes, and bats hibernate. Squirrels and raccoons don't migrate or hibernate. Instead, they gather extra food during the fall months and store it away so they have plenty to eat during the winter.

In some areas, winter is a time when snow falls and gathers on the ground. People who live in these places can enjoy special winter activities like skiing, sledding, or snowboarding. They can also build snowmen and snow castles. When the water in lakes and ponds freeze, people can ice skate or play ice hockey. Some people even cut a hole in the ice and go ice fishing!

Why is snow white?

What color is snow? Is it white or colorless? If snow is frozen water, and ice appears clear, then why does snow appear white?

These may be questions you have asked yourself about snow. The correct answer: snow is white. Why? You first have to understand the color of frozen water, or ice.

If you look at ice, it is clear, or at least appears to be. Ice is translucent. Translucent means that most light passes through ice, but not all of it. Some light bends when passing through ice and some light bounces off of ice. If ice were actually clear, it would be transparent. Transparent means that ALL light passes straight through. For example, glass is transparent. You can see right through glass because all light passes through it.

Snow is frozen water crystals called snowflakes. Because snowflakes are made of ice, they are translucent. However, light passes through snowflakes differently that ice cubes or icicles. When light passes through snow, it bends and bounces around the snowflakes because snowflakes have a crystal shape.

Pure light is white. Therefore, light that bends and bounces around a cluster of snowflakes eventually bounces back at you as white light. This is why snow is white!
