In the summer of 2022 our teacher, Mrs. Hardin, met Mr. John Carlberg, CEO of Ticonderoga, in a restaurant. He sent our school 1,728 pencils. Our class used the Ticonderoga pencils to figure out ratios, convert decimals, percentages and fractions and create a class art design. Once we got pencils for our class, we gave a box of pencils to each class in our school. We got invited to our school board meeting to present our work about the pencils.

We started preparing to present at the school board meeting. When we went there, we all said our parts in front of the board members. At the board meeting there was a regional manager from the Ohio School Board Association, Kimberley Miller-Smith. She recommended that our principal nominate us to go to the Ohio School Board Achievement Fair.

When we got there, there was a table and there was space for us to set up. After we got all set up we walked around to see all the other projects. But of course we had the best project! When it was time to present, a whole lot of people came out and talked to us about our experience with Mr. John Carlberg and our teacher Mrs. Hardin. The experience was very unique and a once in a lifetime opportunity.

5th grade students were invited to present at the Logan Elm School board meeting.
