Sacramental Catechesis: The Sacrament of Holy Orders

Several years ago I met a seminarian from another diocese while my diocesan brothers and I were on our summer assignment in Omaha, Nebraska for the Institute for Priestly Formation (“IPF”). The seminarian’s name was Lucas and he told the class about his own extraordinary story of discovering his own call to discern the priesthood. Six years prior to our summer together in Omaha for IPF, Lucas was involved in a major car accident that sent him to the hospital. Lucas, as he proceeded to tell the class, was not living a holy life and often spent his weekends in self-indulgent activities, which left him feeling empty and self-critical. One too many nights of alcohol consumption and self-indulgent behavior led to a terrible car accident, in which he, fortunately, took the bigger hit. After waking up in the hospital with two broken ribs, a fractured pelvis, and a serious concussion, Lucas knew he made a big mistake that could have turned out worse than it did for him. Lucas, in this moment of weakness and disbelief, was reminded of the image of Our Lady of Guadalupe he kept in his car on that traumatic night. Our Lady gently reminded Lucas to reach out to God in his prayer of mercy and forgiveness. Bedridden and distraught with remorse, Lucas prayed to the Lord for forgiveness and solace in his pain, both moral and physical. As Lucas prayed, he too reached out to a nurse through divine inspiration and asked her, “Can you get me a priest?” Lucas began to explain that his calling out for a priest was to tangibly hear the consoling words and gentle voice of a priest who represented Jesus Christ to him in his hour of need. In other words, Lucas wanted to be loved with the fatherly love of the priest—who represented and embodied sacramentally the incarnation of Jesus Christ as both human and divine.

Lucas’ story went on further, but the above captures the essence of what he told the class that summer: Just as Lucas experienced the spiritual fatherhood of the priest to him in the hospital, so too did this experience provide the foundation for Lucas to discern that same call to spiritual fatherhood. This experience left Lucas with a profound impact on his life and there are many others who can testify to the profound impact priests make on the faithful as spiritual fathers. In our sacramental catechesis on Holy Orders, I want to focus on the priest as spiritual father because this identity is at the heart of a priest’s charism to the Church. But first a little catechism lesson: Certainly, the sacrament of Holy Orders entails three levels: diaconate, presbyterate (priestly), and episcopal (bishop). Since all three sacramentally share in Christ’s headship of the Church as her mystical Bridegroom, it is fitting and necessary that those ordained be baptized and confirmed, Christian males. However, all three levels (for lack of a better term) are distinct from each other. The diaconate (deacons) are charged with proclaiming the Gospel, preaching, and serving the Church in various pastoral or corporal capacities. Deacons represent “Christ the Servant” to the faithful. The presbyterate (priests) are deacons who go on to be ordained priests, to principally act in the person of Jesus Christ as High Priest of the New Covenant. Priests exercise their priestly power to offer the sacrifice of the Holy Mass, to absolve sins in confession, and to anoint the sick or dying through their communion with the bishop. The priest exercises his ministry in persona Christi capitis (“in the person of Christ the Head”) for the good and wellbeing of the body of Christ, the Church. Yet, he cannot legitimately do this without his union and communion with his bishop or religious superior. Every priest must be united to one bishop or religious superior to legitimately exercise his priestly ministry. Bishops have the fullness of the ordained priesthood. They have by right the ability to do everything an ordained priest can do, but the sacraments of Confirmation and Holy Orders are reserved for the bishop’s ministry, especially in the Western Church. The bishop is the direct successor to the Apostles and has the fullness of apostolic authority in his diocese. While all three are distinct, deacons, priests, and bishops should make the sacrament of Holy Orders a gift to the Church.

Every sacrament in the Church is a gift not only to the principal recipient of the sacrament, but to the whole Church. This is undoubtedly true of the Sacrament of Holy Orders and Matrimony (Marriage), although not everyone is the principal recipient of these sacraments. How is Holy Orders a gift to the whole Church, especially since these sacraments are not directly received by the majority of the faithful? This is where spiritual fatherhood, whether it can come from a deacon, priest, or bishop, is how the faithful can receive the gift of this sacrament. Often, Holy Orders is looked at as a sacrament received by men in order to functionally consecrate the Eucharist, absolve sins, preach the Gospel, and ordain other men to the same sacrament. In short, it can mistakenly be seen as the means to perform these other sacraments. In truth, the sacrament of Holy Orders—the priesthood specifically—makes visible Jesus Christ’s fatherhood an incarnational experience in the priests ordained for divine service. Christ’s spiritual fatherhood will look different for every priest because every priest is different; he nuances his ministry and his own charism differently from his brother priests. Some of the faithful may gravitate to one priest’s charism and gifts more than other priests. This, of course, is human nature, but we should not be tempted to compare priests to each other; it would be like comparing two natural fathers of two different households to determine who is better than the other. Such comparison is fruitless and petty and it closes off God’s graces communicated to the faithful by a variety of priests.

Another note on a priest’s spiritual fatherhood: a priest is a father to a parish and to the local Church. There is an old epitaph written about priests, “A priest is a member of all households, but belongs to none.” What this statement says is a priest’s spiritual fatherhood is to impart human and divine love to the faithful, which is never possessive love. A priest is ordained for service and fatherhood to the local Church (diocese). In his time of ministry, the priest is to exercise his service and fatherhood to the parish he is assigned to through the duration of his assignment. The priest is never ordained for a specific parish, but should serve and love that parish faithfully for a season of his life—whether it is short or long. I understand this sounds pretty hard, but this is the reality of sacrificial love—which is at the heart of true, divine love. A priest’s fatherhood can teach us how to love others, love our priests, and our community without the hurt and resentment possessive love could cause when that love is lost. Jesus modelled this in his Paschal Mystery and, hopefully, priests today can show spiritual fatherhood through the divine heart of Christ.

In Christ the Savior,

In Rubie

*"He said to the gardener, For three years now I have come in search of fruit on this fig tree but have found none."
Luke (13:7)*

We can all be like the barren fig tree at times. Do you cling to what you have, or do you generously share with others? How will you respond when God ask you what you have done with all the gifts He has given you? Remember, not only are we called to be generous; we are called to develop and nurture our gifts; and return them with increase. We are called to be generous with all of gifts; especially the one that means the most to you.

Did you know?

Little Flower was originally going to be a new St. Patrick's parish? They decided to keep St. Patrick's in the city and instead chose to name the parish Little Flower.

HOLY MASS

Is the Lord calling you to come to Mass an extra day of the week? Mass is prayed in the Little Flower chapel every weekday at 7:00am.

PRAYERS OF THE FAITHFUL

That we are generous with all of our gifts; nurture and develop them to return with increase.

Amen

OCIA LESSON: REVERENCE FOR THE HOLY EUCHARIST

At Little Flower extreme care to honor the Holy Eucharist is a priority. We genuflect in the presence of the Eucharist in the Ste. Therese Chapel as well as when we pass the chapel doorway.

When the reserved Eucharist is brought into the sanctuary, two altar servers with lighted lamps accompany the ciborium.

As we approach the Eucharist to receive Holy Communion, a solemn bow is performed by the communicant. In response to the words: "The Body of Christ", the communicant professes belief by saying "Amen".

On very important feast days at Little Flower, special torch bearers surround the altar during the consecration to pay love and respect for the Eucharist.

For the past twenty years, Adoration of the Eucharist continues in the chapel every Friday from 7:30 am to 5:00 pm. The Eucharist in the Monstrance is never left unguarded. All are welcome to come to pray.

Once a month, a Tuesday evening Holy Hour with Benediction takes place from 7:00 to 8:00 pm. All are invited for prayer and opportunity for the Sacrament of Confession.

Little Flower is blessed that here is a living Eucharistic community.

ARCHDIOCESAN LENTEN REGULATIONS

The Church has always helped us fulfill these words of Jesus by prescribing very definite penance for all Catholics, so that we too might have Eternal life. Accordingly, the Pope and the American Bishops have outlined obligatory fast and abstinence as follows:

Ash Wednesday (Wednesday March 5th, 2025) and Good Friday (April 18th, 2025) are days of abstinence (refraining from meat) for all Catholics from the age of 14 onwards. On these two days, fast, as well as abstinence, is also obligatory for those from the ages of 18-59. Abstinence means refraining from meat. Fast means one full meal a day, with two smaller meals and nothing between meals (liquids are permitted). No Catholic will lightly excuse himself or herself from this obligation.

All Fridays in Lent are days of abstinence from meat. Here again Catholics will not hold themselves lightly excused, but if there is a serious health problem, this obligation would not apply.

Do you want to know a great way to make this Lent even better? Listen to Catholic Radio! Shut off the noise and listen to solid Catholic teaching, prayers, and call-in programs. You can listen on a smart speaker, tell Alexa to play Covenant Network Catholic Radio, on our App, Covenant Network, online at OurCatholicRadio.org, or on your local Catholic radio station, AM 1460 / 96.7 FM. Make this a Lent to remember. Pray the Visual Rosary with sacred images for each prayer and the Stations of the Cross.

To all Separated, Divorced, Widowed, or Remarried Catholics:

We would like to invited you to join us for fun and to make new friends at the next meeting of the South County Separated, Divorced Widowed and Remarried Catholics (SCDC) on Thursday, March 27, 2025. We meet at St. Catherine Laboure Parish Cafeteria (next to the playground), 9740 Sappington Rd, Sunset Hills, MO. The meeting startts at 7:00 pm.

Following our short business meeting we will be having a Quartet to entertain us and enjoy refreshments. It's a fun evening!!

SCDC is a support group for the separated, divorced, widowed and remarried of our community but all are welcome. SCDC offers social activities for everyone that range from cards, game days, happy hours, and dinners. We also plan many other activities such as visits to wineries, area sites, etc.

Ask about our same day $5 discount for new members.

For additional info please contact Tom Shepard, 781-221-7839.
