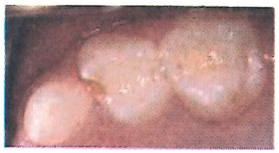
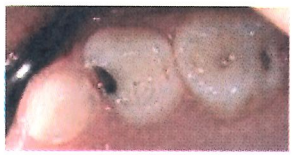
Silver Diamine Fluoride (SDF) – A new dental treatment to fight cavities

Dental cavities are very common with children, but now our outreach dental teams have a safe, painless alternative to traditional cavity drilling procedures called silver diamine fluoride (SDF). SDF is an FDA-approved antibiotic liquid used to help prevent cavities from forming, growing, or spreading to other teeth. It is simply brushed on the tooth.

Without SDF



With SDF



About SDF:

- The outreach dental team will use SDF on back teeth only.
- It's normal for SDF to stain the cavity brown or black. This is permanent but can be reversed with a filling or loss of the baby tooth.
- The healthy parts of the tooth will not be stained.
- Further treatment of any dental care needs can be met at our health centers. SDF treatment may not eliminate the need for a traditional filling
- SDF can temporarily stain nearby areas in the mouth. The stain causes no harm and should disappear on its own within a few days to a couple of weeks.
- SDF may cause a temporary metallic taste.
